HEAT SENSE™ SAFETY OPTION

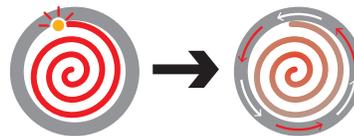

For customers who prefer higher wattage cooling (2100W/1200W), our patent-pending technology reduces the risk of cooking fires with a coil sensor that turns off an element if it nears flashpoint temperature. The element cycles back on after a few minutes, allowing users to resume heating without incident. Add suffix "T" to model number.

HOW IT WORKS

Coil nears flashpoint cooking temperature, potentially causing cooking fire

HeatSense™ sensors kick in to cycle the element off

Once element returns to lower temperature, heating resumes
